Master's Message

Brethren:

Wisdom, Strength and Beauty are the three principal supports of Freemasonry. They have been explained in many different ways. In my forty years as a member of the craft, I have seen many excellent men who had all three qualities. One who stands out is the late RW Lester Miller. Lester's wisdom was shown whenever he did a lecture (or an annual installation). His strength was shown when he had to fight many adversities and eventually triumph. His inner beauty caused his former adversaries to become friends. His inner beauty was illustrated by his thousands of hours donated to the Veterans Hospital in East Orange. I have always tried to emulate Lester whenever possible. Although, I could never approach his ritual and time donated to the Veterans Home, I try to do my best. I admonish each and every one of you to emulate a great Mason of whom you know (or knew). If we do this, our great fraternity will thrive.

Ronald P. Jacobson
Worshipful Master
